Daly City Man Drowns In Coastside Mishap

Capsized as he fought to return his rowboat through huge waves to Martin's Beach Tuesday afternoon, Alfred Brutt, 28, Daly City, was drowned, and his companion Miss Barbara Harris, 18, of Oakland, was dragged to safety by on-lookers.

The couple, according to reports to coast guard and Constable Fred Simmons of Half Moon Bay, had rented the boat from Mrs. Helen Watt at the beach, for an afternoon's outing. Increasing winds, on-lookers said, brought high waves as the little craft reached open water. Apparently caught broadside by a huge breaker, the boat overturned. Miss Harris was able to swim ashore.

Brutt apparently sank almost as soon as he was thrown into the water. Naval medical corpsmen summoned from Pt. Montara Naval Training Station, declared Miss Harris suffered only shock. Coast-guardsmen from Golden Gate Station, called to scene, searched until late at night, but were unable to recover Brutt's body. Brutt's home was at 274 Irvington St., Daly City. Miss Harris lives at 6401 Leona St., Oakland.

10 Hurt In Auto Crashes

Two men were dead Monday and at least ten persons received hospital treatment for injuries suffered in San Mateo County traffic accidents during the holiday weekend, California Highway Patrol officers said.

Dead were: Seaman 1/c Eugene R. Heinan, 19, Tanforan sailor who was killed instantly when struck by an automobile in Millbrae, and Cecil Gross, 24, of 1074 Haven St., Friendly Acres, who died at Palo Alto Hospital Monday at 2:30 a.m. as a result of injuries suffered in a Friday night motorcycle accident.

Heinan was walking on El Camino Real near Victoria Rd. with his companion, Jesse C. Latham, when he was hit by a car driven by Andrew H. Ashbacher, 23, marine stationed at Hunter's Point, patrolmen said. Latham jumped clear of the oncoming automobile, but Heinan was knocked to the pavement.

His body was removed to Tanforan.

Gross was driving a motorcycle in North Fair Oaks when he apparently lost control and crashed into a ditch in East Palo Alto, officers said. He suffered head and internal injuries in the accident.

The motorcycle victim was a chief engineer in the Army Transport Service at Ft. Mason, patrolmen said. Funeral arrangements are in charge of Curry & Gripe-straw Mortuary in San Jose.

Gross, a native of San Jose, had been residing with his sister, Mrs. W. E. Cox, at the Friendly Acres address.

He entered the Army Transport Service in 1942, having transferred from the merchant marine. He missed the Pearl Harbor bombing by two days, and was a veteran of the Coral Sea battle.

He had recently returned to Hampton Roads, Va., after working aboard ammunition ships bound for Leyte.

He leaves his wife of two months, who was with him at time of death, Lucille Williams, formerly of Chicago, his mother, Mrs. Ora J. Es-pinoso of Cupertino, his sister, and three brothers, all of Cupertino.

Three persons were treated at Community Hospital for injuries after the motorcycle upon which they were riding blew a tire on Bayshore Hwy. near Bay Meadows Race Track Sunday at 4:45 p.m., CHP officers said.

Charlene Duggan, 22, of 242 Hart-ford St., was removed to her San Francisco home after hospital at-tendants said there was no room for her, although she suffered a possible skull fracture.

Eleanore Gitschel, 21, of 3644 Anza St., San Francisco, second passen-ger on the motorcycle, suffered cuts and abrasions on the face and arms, and Driver Gidd James Hampt-on, 27, of 337 1/2 South Seventh St., San Jose, was released after emer-gency treatment for cuts on his head and knee.

Samuel Wollenstein, 24, of 2314 Channing Way, Berkeley, suffered a fractured foot and lacerations when the automobile he was driving failed to negotiate a curve on the Coast Hwy. near Point Montero and plunged into a ditch Sunday at 10:20 a.m., patrolmen said.

Carol Scott, 21, of 985 Geary St., San Francisco, passenger in the automobile, was admitted to Mills Memorial Hospital for treatment of concussion, but Wollenstein was re-leased.

Mrs. C. Tobin Clark, prominent Hillsborough resident, and wo other persons were injured in an in-tersection collision in Hillsborough Sunday.

Lack of Water Balks Crew Fighting Fire

Fire levelled the Frank Wil-liamson general merchandise store and damaged the Bank of America building in Pesca-dero Sunday afternoon, causing damage of $30,000 to the two structures, San Mateo County Dep. Fire Warden A. L. Meyers reported today.

The blaze, of unknown origin, had gained considerable headway in the general store by 8 o'clock when fire trucks were summoned, and at-tempts to save the store were ham-pered by lack of water supply.

Firemen, directed by Meyers, poured water from tank trucks on the neighboring bank building and on the residence of Mrs. T. Young across the street where huge paint blisters were raised on the newly-renovated house and a palm tree set on fire by the intense heat.

The two-story frame store build-ing, however, burned to the ground within a short time.

Meyers ordered the electric power cut off when high voltage lines in front of the store caught on fire, and electric pumps throughout the town were put out of commission, making it necessary for firemen to augment their water supply by pumping it from Pescadero Creek.

Damage to the store, which was erected on its present site on San Gregorio St. approximately 15 years ago after fire destroyed an earlier store across the street, was estimated at $27,500 by Wil-liamson.

The building was insured for $10,500, he told Meyers, but stock valued at $17,000 was uninsured, he said.

Mgr. George Davis of the Bank of America office estimated dam-age to the north wall of the build-ing at $2000. Windows of the bank building were broken out by the intense heat, and the interior of the structure was damaged by smoke and water.

Masonry construction of the bank building prevented more serious damage, Meyers said.

Condition of the contents in the store's safe were undetermined to-day, as opening of the battered strong box awaited the arrival of insurance company representatives.

Firefighters from the La Honda, Sky-Londa and Pescadero sta-tions dodged exploding cans of foodstuffs, paint and shotgun shells. Merchandise continued to blow up hours after the flames had subsided and firemen poured water on the smoking ruins.

The fire, declared by Meyers to be the worst in many years in that area, touched off a wave of pro-tests from residents who declared they would renew their fight to se-cure a central water supply for Pescadero.

Residents rely upon individual well pumps, most of which are op-erated by electricity, and a power fail-ure cuts off all supply but that stored in small overhead tanks or obtained by gasoline motors.

Meyers and the Pescadero fire-fighters had just returned by the scene of a grass and brush fire two miles north on the Coast Hwy. when the alarm was turned in for the Williamson store, he stated.

Yesterday at 5:30 p.m., county fire trucks from Redwood City were called to Brisbane where a grass and brush fire west of the com-munity burned over three acres of land without damage.

$50,000 Damages Asked for Injuries

Damages of $50,000 were asked in suit filed in superior court here Tuesday to Mrs. Gladys Sanders as a result of an automobile collision in San Mateo last June.

Mrs. Sanders, who suffered al-leged spinal injuries in the two-car accident at Mt. Diablo Ave. and San Mateo Dr., sues with her husband, George E. Sanders. Defendant is Roy Ford, driver of the other ma-chine. Negligence is charged.

Mrs. Lillie Belle Lambert, Widow of Ex-Mayor, Dies

Mrs. Lillie Belle Lambert, 69, widow of former Redwood City Mayor Charles G. Lambert, died at 5 p.m. Monday at Mills Memorial Hospital following a period of de-clining health. She had been in the hospital 10 days.

A native of Belmont, Mrs. Lam-bert was prominent in civic affairs here and was one of the organizers and charter members of the Red-wood City Woman's Club. She played Mrs. Santa Claus for neighbor-hood children for many years and for 10 years was organist in the Belmont Episcopal Church.

Her husband, who died Aug. 20, 1943, was Redwood City mayor from 1931-36. An early-day resident of San Mateo County, he came here from England in 1894 and was in the real estate business from 1902 until his death.

Mrs. Lambert's chief interests in life were her home and garden. She lived at 1519 Hopkins Ave. for the past year. Mrs. Lambert is sur-vived by a son, Norbert, and a daughter, Eileen, both of Redwood City, and a sister, Mrs. Hazel Barneson of San Fernando.

Funeral services were held Wed-nesday at 2 p.m. at the Franklin & Crowe Mortuary. The Rev. Egbert Clarke of St. Peter's Episcopal Church conducted the services.

LOCAL SERVICE

SERVING YOUR COMMUNITY

Carrying local passengers in California is Greyhound's first consider-ation. Last year we carried over 46 million passengers in this state. The average trip made by these passengers was only 35 miles. That represents "local" service.

Passengers get on and off the familiar blue and white buses at many convenient points along the highway, sometimes at their very door. A great many of these passengers are regular customers who depend on Greyhound's local service.

Many well-paid Greyhound employees make their homes in your community, while local activities and local organizations benefit from Greyhound's active participation in them. Greyhound is a part of this community with a real interest in your growth and prosperity.

Sacramento Renames Park In Honor of 'Dick' Edmonds

Tribute to the late Richard J. (Dick) Edmonds, 31, sports editor of the Sacramento Solons, who saved the team from losing the Pacific Coast League franchise, was paid by thousands of sports fans Sunday in Sacramento when the name of the Sacramento ball park was changed from Doubleday Park to Dick Edmonds Field, County Supervisor and Mrs. Henry W. Edmonds reported Tuesday upon their return from Sacramento.

Mr. Edmonds died July 29 in Sacramento of virus pneumonia. Former sports editor of the Redwood City Tribune, he gained national fame when as sports editor of the Sacramento Union he appeared before the board of directors of the Coast League with $40,000 stuffed in his pockets.

The money, collected by himself and a night club operator, was

Missing Girls Just Went 'Camping' Near La Honda

Two San Francisco girls waited in the juvenile home here for their parents, and probable spankings, after their "camping" trip to La Honda and Troutman was rudely interrupted by deputies of Sheriff J. J. McGrath.

The girls, Maurien Hart, 12, and Barbara Thompson, 11, were listed as missing Monday by San Francisco police. Discovered on a creek bridge at Troutman yesterday by Deputies Walter Moore and Jack O'Brien, the girls admitted their identities and said they had planned a camping trip to La Honda, to watch the deer. They were equipped with three suitcases of clothes and provisions, and two blankets. It was purely an over-

McGrath Claims County Is 'Clean'

San Mateo County is "clean," Sheriff J. J. McGrath declared Tuesday, announcing he has sent his formal report embodying this summation to Atty. Gen. Robert Kenny.

Undercover men, operating for McGrath from early June until last week, he said, were unable to uncover evidences of any houses of prostitution operating within the county, and were able to discover only two gambling spots. Both of the latter, he said, are "being given suitable action."

The so-called "breakdown of county law enforcement" claim, which instigated the attorney general's request for reports from the state's sheriffs and district attorneys, McGrath said, was "strictly untrue."

Dist. Atty. Gilbert D. Ferrell's report on county conditions, also requested by Kenny, will be sent him soon, Ferrell said. He would not elaborate on his report's findings.

News of Commuters

By LOCOMOTIVE BILL

ROMANCE of Commuting—a short history: Commuting on the Peninsula between San Francisco and San Jose began in May, 1850. As there were no railroads, transportation was by stage coach. The trips back and forth were numerous, down one day and back the next. It didn't take very long to make the trip with the horses used in those days and the scheduled time was just nine hours, a mere breeze so to speak. Commuters' pockets were bulging with gold in the '50s and the fare of $32.00, one way, was a mere pittance to those hardy pioneers. The road was nice and smooth except one-third of the year when it became impassable due to the weather, but this didn't bother the commuters—two-thirds of the year was long enough to work anyway.

The stage companies prospered and they carried the tremendous passenger load of 1000 per month. Traveling by stage coach became so popular that the company of boys thought that maybe a railway would induce more people to engage in the sport of commuting. They called their railway the Pacific and Atlantic Rail Road and articles of incorporation were obtained on Sept. 6, 1851. The cost to build the road was estimated at the nominal sum of $126.17 rather close figuring, although some critics wanted to know what the 17 cents was for. No difficulty was anticipated in selling the stock but somehow some of the fellows were suspicious and the promoters were unsuccessful in obtaining the capital. The stock was then taken over by one Commodore Garrison, then Mayor of San Francisco. The mayor, an optimistic soul, asked his engineer for an estimate on passenger travel between San Francisco and San Jose and was informed that there were only 10 daily commuters at that time. Some traveled by stage coach and others used the Alviso steamer, and its connecting bus. Just when things looked promising the panic of 1855 came along and the building of a railway again fell through. (To be continued.)

The crepe is out and deep mourning prevails in Commuter Club circles these days as the aftermath of last Wednesday's soft ball classic at Hawes Park. The Commuter team, service club champions of 1943-44, went into the game top-heavy favorites but after the debacle was over a new champion had been born. The Kiwanians, fired up by their coach and manager, Andy Spinna, played a great game and went on to win by a 10-5 score. The Commuters, dejected by their sudden and unexpected defeat, had no excuses to offer, although some of their supporters felt that the loss of the game could be charged to their first base coach who, in their opinion, was in reality playing for the Kiwanians. Then it was said the absence of third base coach, Joe Caboose and Speed Gardener, last year's stars, had considerable to do with the defeat. Furthermore, had the Kiwanian Club manager played Al Sagehorn, Ferris Miles and Marty Flynn, things might have been different. Be that as it may, Mgr. Paul Allen predicts that fluke defeats like this one will not happen again. Game features: The home run of Charley Coombs with

Secures Writ For Return Of Infant Son

Writ of habeas corpus was secured in superior court here Tuesday by Helene T. Rossing, Millbrae unwed mother, to secure the return of her infant son from Mr. and Mrs. Theodore O. Meri, of San Bruno.

The child, whose return to his natural mother has been sought since adoption petition of the Meris was denied last month, has not been located. Atty. Joseph F. O'Malley, for Miss Rossing, said today. He threatened recently to institute federal kidnap charges if the would-be foster mother had taken the boy from the state.

Born a year ago, the infant was relinquished by Miss Rossing to Dr. J. Paul Sweeney of Millbrae, the

Menlo Park City Council Discusses Park Improvements

MENLO PARK—Plans to improve the appearance of Memorial Park was the major topic on the agenda of Tuesday night's meeting of the Menlo Park City Council.

Park Comr. Wallace Brown said that the installation of a sprinkler system would be a big step towards making the park a "place of beauty."

Brown called on Eugene Thomas, contractor, who gave a rough estimate of $2900 for the piping installation of a system that would be adequate to water Memorial Park and the Recreation Center.

Mayor Donald Fisher asked his fellow councilmen to consider the petition for the habeas corpus writ alleged, after the doctor suggested it would be to the better interest of the child to become adopted by suitable persons. Later, Miss Rossing decided she wished to rear her son, an adoption petition was denied by Judge Maxwell McNutt and the boy ordered returned to his mother.

The habeas corpus writ is returnable Sept. 13 before Judge Andrew F. Schottky here.

Sequoia Night School Offers Vets Special Consideration

Returning veterans will receive special consideration at the Sequoia Adult Night School Fall session, Principal S. S. Mayo reported Tuesday in announcing that registration for classes will continue through the next several weeks.

Mayo urged, however, that students register as soon as possible to avoid getting behind in classes. Veterans will be able to complete their high school work or take subjects which will upgrade them in their jobs, Mayo said.

Among the new classes offered is one speech improvement, which will be taught if 15 signify their interest, Mayo said. The class also will be given at the San Carlos Elementary School beginning Sept. 24. Mrs. Carrobell DeLear will teach the physical fitness class for women again, beginning at Sequoia on Sept. 20 and at San Carlos Sept. 18.

Roos Divorce Suit Continued to Sept. 18

Continuance to Sept. 18 was granted before Judge Andrew R. Schottky in superior court here Tuesday as attorneys for Capt. Robert A. Roos appeared in answer to Mrs. Barbara Roos' complaint asking divorce and $500 monthly maintenance and custody of their two children. Mrs. Roos asks that her husband be restrained from using the couple's Hillsborough home, and charges cruelty.

Most classes meet two nights a week from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. A $1 registration fee is required. The pottery class, which starts Sept. 25, will be taught by Larry Thompson. An additional $2 fee will be charged to cover the cost of glaze and clay. The typing and other commercial classes begin Thursday, Mayo said. A number of persons already have signed up for wood and machine shop, he added. Only a certain number may enroll. A special class will be established for women in wood shop.

Flower arrangement will be taught by Miss Sella Boulware and the class will begin the latter part of this month, Mayo reported. Spanish, both beginning and advanced, again will be given. Tomorrow night the mixed badminton class under the leadership of Miss Vera Jansen will begin.

Wanted: Gas Masks, Helmets, Sand Buckets

Redwood City holders of civilian defense equipment today were notified to return all equipment loaned during the war to Firehouse One, Middlefield Rd.

This includes helmets, gas masks and fire extinguishers. The city council at its Sept. 4 meeting authorized Fire Chief Mark E. Ryan to collect the OGD equipment. Mayor W. W. Hilton is chairman of the Redwood City War Council and Ryan is property chairman.

Chest Aids 'Red Shield'

The Salvation Army is just one of the many agencies supported from the Redwood City Community Chest. Andrew Spinax, chairman here for the Salvation Army pointed out Tuesday.

Of the many services rendered by the Salvation Army through its global humanitarian program which knows no race, creed or color, is its care of unmarried mothers. Started in a day when there were practically no decent or adequate facilities for a girl who found herself facing motherhood outside the conventional sanctions of society, the Salvation Army maternity hospitals have continued to fill a need throughout the years.

Of the nearly 7000 girls cared for last year, more than 60 per cent were under 20 years of age. In California, maternity hospitals of the Salvation Army are located in Oakland, Los Angeles and San Diego, Spinax reported.

Main purpose of the Salvation Army, financed by the Community Chest, is to help others. Persons who need assistance in overcoming some problem in life ranging from coffee or stationary for one of our soldiers to helping a youngster from a broken home get a right start can depend on the Salvation Army, Spinax said.

The Community Chest drive opens in the business district here, Sept. 17, and in the residential section, Sept. 30.

No, Lady, There Was No Crash

Sheriff's deputies, coast guard pilots, assorted volunteer searchers, and newspapermen relaxed after an afternoon-long hunt Tuesday for the site of a non-existent airplane's crash.

The excitement developed after an unidentified woman phoned Mills Field control tower she had just seen "a plane crash into a ridge near Pilarcitos Lake" some six miles southwest of the airport.

Sheriff James J. McGrath, Fire Warden Bert Werder and Peninsula police departments all sent searchers to join the hunt. Reporters joined the search and newsmen phoned hospitals—all in vain.

Sober second thought, much later, decided officials the woman had seen a low flying plane pass over the ridge near Lake Pilarcitos and had assumed it crashed because of distorted perspective.

Construction Begins On R.C. Store Building

Ground was broken for construction of a new $27,000 store building at 665 El Camino Real Saturday afternoon, with the Mission Carpet House expecting to move into its new quarters in 90 days, Mgr. R. J. Meyer said today.

The new building, constructed of reinforced concrete, will contain more than 5000 square feet of floor space, Meyer stated.

The old Corbett estate at Hopkins Ave. and Myrtle St. has been sold for $34,500 by Capt. and Mrs. Earl Bach to Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Greene Jr., with one-third interest purchased by Mrs. Greene's mother, Mrs. Tressa I. Archibald, the county recorder reported today.

The estate includes a large house, a swimming pool, tennis courts, baseball diamonds, game room and bar. Greene is a radio engineer with Remier Co. in San Francisco and Bach is a captain with United Airlines. The Greene family lives at 2 Acacia Lane.

Deed to the estate was filed at the request of the San Mateo County Title Co.

Phil Patten Explains Work Of Local USO Mobile Units

The USO mobile units are only one of three valuable services rendered by the organization which is sponsored entirely by Community Chest funds, Phil Patten, club mobile unit head for the Peninsula, said Wednesday.

Approximately 50 per cent of the chest funds contributed in Redwood City goes to support the USO and its work in mobile units, clubhouses for service men and camp shows. The National War Fund and Redwood City Community Chest drive in the business area begins Sept. 17 and in the residential district Sept. 30.

Patten explained today how he tours military installations from San Francisco to below San Jose with his mobile unit equipped with the latest movies from Hollywood, books, magazines, games, stationery and other items for service men stationed at 20 bases throughout the Peninsula.

The mobile units were first established to bring entertainment and a "bit of home" to service men stationed at out of the way places, particularly coast guardsmen on beach patrols and soldiers and sailors far from towns, Patten said. There are 16 mobile units in Northern California, he added.

An average day takes the director here first to Hunter's Point, where he visits the sailors, marines, and members of the submarine patrol at three separate headquarters. Then Patten goes on down to San Bruno to show movies and bring books to marines and sailors stationed on ships. He next visits the coast guard station at San Bruno and finally army personnel at Mills Field.

"That makes a pretty full day," Patten said. "Many of the movies I show are the same ones playing in downtown theaters and some are ones that haven't appeared yet," he added. "I have planned a schedule every day and the bases know when to expect me."

All branches of the service are reached by the mobile units, Patten said. "We often show movies and visit the gun crews who dock at the Port of Redwood City," he reported.

Prior to entering USO work two years ago, Patten was a school

Ex-Councilman Donald Lilly Proposes Erection of Swimming Pool in San Carlos

SAN CARLOS—Donald Lilly, former councilman and member of the San Carlos Planning Commission, appeared Monday evening before the San Carlos Recreation Commission, as "a one-man pressure group" as he termed it, for the erection of a swimming pool in San Carlos.

Lilly contends San Carlos has one of the finest groups of young people on the Peninsula and that they are entitled to this benefit. His design called for a concrete pool costing approximately $30,000 to be financed by a bond issue. He said this would affect the taxpayer at the rate of about 90 cents to $1.20 a year, which he considered a small price to pay for a permanent facility which would be helping a lot of youngsters to a better start in life.

Lilly said that he had made an informal survey of the town and considered a great many people were interested in this project and that he thus represented a large segment of the town's population.

He brought with him plans and specifications for such a pool which he had drawn up. He asserted such a pool, to reach the greatest number, should be centrally located and advocated for this reason using a portion of the present recreation center which adjoins Brittan Ave.

In the design of a pool which he presented before the commission, he emphasized only a properly-built pool should be considered. His plan advocated a pool 40x100 feet with a 30-foot diameter wading pool and a beach hall accommodating 350 people.

He said in spite of all that is heard about high water rates in town, he had estimated the cost of water per day for such an undertaking would be about $8. He considered a minimum charge to bathers with a higher rate to out of town people would take care of maintenance.

Lilly's appearance at the recreation commission on this issue followed a move for a pool which has been conducted the past six months by groups in town. At the Fourth of July celebration a group of young people paraded in bathing suits with a banner, "We Want a Swimming Pool." Certain organizations in town have taken the matter up, and Ralph Shaw, former recreation director, and Louis Knights of the Hillsborough School, who directed the summer program, have gone on record as advocating a pool.

Recently Mayor A. H. Sagehorn, in bringing out the postwar projects he deemed essential for the city, said he considered a swimming pool "highly desirable, means for which would have to be worked out when most feasible."

Maj. George Braden, regional national recreation director on the other hand, in making an inspection trip here last Spring at the invitation of Ralph Shaw, stated that a swimming pool was usually one of the last matters of a city's recreation program. He indicated it had been proved that a city with a population of less than 18,000 people seldom was able adequately to handle a first class swimming pool, and he contended no city should ever consider any other kind.

Pork production in 1943 was about 25 per cent larger than in 1942.

Murfee Repudiates Felony Conviction

Emerson Murfee, complainant in the Peterson-Mensoian attempted extortion case here, in which the two sailor defendants are seeking a new trial after their recent conviction, denied that he had ever been convicted of a felony.

Affidavit offered the court Thursday by Atty. James Boland for the defense, charged Murfee is the same Emerson Murphy, alias "Murfee," was convicted of federal Dyer Act charges in Florida in 1930.

Murfee, in his denial today, said he was working in Alabama, when a friend "borrowed" an auto for a weekend and offered Murfee a ride to his parents' home in Bonifay, Fla. The friend's uncle, owner of the car, reported it as stolen. Murfee said, and both youths were questioned. He denied he had been sentenced and convicted on Dyer Act charges. Murfee said he was seeking legal redress against Boland for trying to "besmirch" his character. Murfee, as a part owner of the Villa Chatter, charged the sailors with attempting to extort $4,000 from him.

Charles H. Ward Writes From Tokyo Bay of Surrender

From Tokyo Bay on the day of Japanese surrender, Radio Technician 1/c Charles H. Ward wrote a detailed description of that historic occasion to his parents, the Rev. and Mrs. Charles E. Ward of 162 Grand St.

"We arrived yesterday afternoon and the sky was overcast with a typical San Francisco fog," the 23-year-old sailor wrote. "They call this the land of the rising sun but I'm beginning to doubt if they ever see it."

"We were anchored a few thousand yards from the Missouri on one side and Yokohama on the other. Tokyo's waterfront can be dimly seen ahead of us. Just south of Yokohama and nearer us are some large, beautiful homes. The shipyards of Yokohama show evidences of rather severe bombing. "In the harbor is a large number of our ships, all the way from mighty battleships to LSTs. All day today, large transports have been coming into the bay loaded with troops. We are all glad that this landing can be made without a shot being fired."

"During the signing of the surrender this morning, a tremendous number of B-29s and smaller craft were flying in small V formations. No doubt you heard them over the radio. It was really quite a sight," Ward concludes.

In the service since November, 1942, Ward has been overseas half that time. A brother, Sgt. Wilford T. Ward, is working in an atomic bomb laboratory at Oak Ridge, Tenn., and another brother, Donald, is a mechanical engineer in the Sylvania radar plant at Emporium, Pa.

Be Prepared Now for the many NEW Postwar Appliances you'll use in your home

Think back to the home or homes you have lived in, in the past ten years. Remember the inconveniences of house-wiring from lights that blinked when the refrigerator went on, or the wires you strung along the floor to connect a lamp or clock or radio; or the fuses that blew out when you connected the iron? By spending very little extra money on ADEQUATE WIRING...all these things could have been avoided.

Give Adequate Wiring the place it should have in your home. Plan ahead for the many new home appliances, for better lighting, for television, by wiring ahead for 194X living. Carefully check over wiring plans when you remodel or build and make sure the house-wiring has these essentials:

1. Plenty of plug-in outlets.
2. Plenty of light switches properly placed.
3. Wires that are large enough (at least number twelve wire) to supply all the appliances that will be used during the lifetime of your home.

Belmont Civic Assn. Considers Clubhouse as War Memorial

BEALMONT — The Belmont Civic Assn. in a spirited meeting that filled the large hall of the former Belle Monti Club house Tuesday heard Mayor J. E. Furlong, Jr., give facts and figures concerning the proposed purchase of the clubhouse as a War Memorial Community Center.

This property, which includes several acres, has a two-story building, formerly a country club, used during the first part of the war by the army, and at present being occupied by a private school. There is a swimming pool on the grounds.

Mayor Furlong said his figures were tentative but he felt they were as close as one could estimate. "If we are to have recreational facilities," he said, "they should be in the 'top drawer manner' with no hit or miss propositions. Now how are we going to do this? We can't buy this building out of thin air."

In coming to his conclusions on cost and ways of meeting this, he said, he had consulted at the court house, with Al Sagehorn and Martin Flynn, county treasurer and county assessor, respectively, and he figured it would cost the people of Belmont approximately $50,000. The price asked for the building is $25,000 and perhaps may be purchased for less he said; repair costs have been quoted as $10,000. Then there is the swimming pool to put into proper condition; personnel and maintenance.

This would involve a cost to the city of about $7000 to $8000 a year, he figured, and the only way of raising it seems to be an increase in the tax rate, which would have to be voted on by a two-third majority of the people. As applied to the tax levy of last year this would be about $40 per 100 on the assessed valuation of a piece of property. A further bright side to this, he commented, was that any revenue derived from the building had not been taken into account and also every new home built would reduce the pro rata.

Frank P. O'Brien, Belmont postmaster, raised some objection as to the method of meeting the cost, saying he had it on authority that state and federal funds could be used for this. Mayor Furlong said it was his understanding this was only available for new constructions but if O'Brien thought there was a way he should be appointed to look into it.

In conclusion, the mayor said he now considered the matter in the hands of the association to act as it saw fit, but that if it were presented to the council, he added, "I want the people to know this is no blue sky stuff and if they decide they're going to get it, then they're going to pay for it."

George Draper, president of the civic group, said in regard to the figure presented by a local engineer of $10,000 for repairs the investigating committee had found the building in good shape and he would like to see some community spirit in volunteer help to fix up the place for the least possible money.

Other matters the association dealt with last night included a letter to be addressed to San Mateo Improvement Club and to Judge A. H. Cotton protesting the proposed juvenile home "at Belmont's back door," a communication to the sanitary board of the city, objecting to the unsanitary conditions existing in certain Chinese nurseries in town; an endorsement by the group for the acquisition of the Butano Forest as a state park, and a promise by the mayor that "there will be buses running around in Belmont before the rains stop."

The committee investigating the purchase of Belle Monti clubhouse included Draper, James Ross Jr., W. H. Topham, Lovon Sims, J. F. Calverly, Mrs. A. S. Alexander, Peter Tedesco, David Simon, J. W. Brooks and A. B. Denny.

Safety Council Urges Parents' Co-operation

With schools now open, the San Mateo County Traffic Safety Council urged parents to make certain that their children know how to cross streets properly.

The basic safety rule is that streets should be crossed only at intersections—no dashing across in the middle of the block, the council said.

Motorists, too, must acquire the habit of being particularly watchful for school traffic, the council warned.

David Belasco Begins Leave

Shipfitter 3/c David M. Belasco of Redwood City has returned from 21 months' duty in the Pacific, where he served in the New Hebrides with navy seabees.

The 26-year-old sailor, who spent several months at a North African post during construction of a military base there, is now visiting his sister, Mrs. M. L. Walker, at 60 Avondale Ave.

He will report to Camp Parks upon completion of a 30-day leave. He is a graduate of Sequoia High School and San Mateo Junior College.

Car Registration Offices To Close Sept. 11-30

Vehicle registration offices at the local CHP office, will be closed from Sept. 11 through Sept. 30, Capt. E. F. Cassell advised today.

Lack of sufficient help to operate the vehicle license and registration bureau here, he said, made the closing period necessary. Motorists may secure the usual service offered here, he advised, either at Palo Alto, San Francisco, or by mail direct to Sacramento. Drivers' licenses, he pointed out, will be issued here as usual.

Holiday Here Means School For 5000, Stores Stay Open

Most Redwood City stores remained open Monday despite the state-declared holiday in celebration of Admission Day, while more than 5000 school children here trooped back to classrooms to begin the fall term of the 1945-46 school year.

Only banks, some grocery stores and a few bakeries closed here. Clothing and drug stores stayed open for business as usual.

Supt. Andrew Spinas of the Redwood City Elementary Schools said he was unable to release an enrollment figure but stated that all of the schools were "crowded."

T/4 Hugo Nead Among Engineers Commended

"For helping to carve a gigantic Superfortress airfield out of the uncharted, virgin jungle of Northern Guam," the Seventh AAF Engineers, including T/4 Hugo Nead of Redwood City, have been awarded the meritorious service unit plaque, a Ryukyus release reported today.

The engineers, overseas 21 months, have built fields in the Marshalls, Marianas and Ryukyus Islands. Nead's wife, Bobbie, lives at 40 Woodrow St.

Lt. Kenneth Bowen Witnesses Surrender

Lt. Kenneth L. Bowen, former Tribune editor, was in Yokohama on the day the Japs surrendered to the Allies, a letter revealed today.

Bowen, who has applied for the job of city manager here, said he couldn't resist sending greetings from "Tokyo Bay on this historic day, Sept. 2." He said that his ship arrived early in the morning with First Cavalry Division troops — "which we loaded at Batangas, on Southern Luzon."

THERE GOES ONE OF THOSE NEW PLANES

YEP, AND THERE GO A LOT OF J-M PACKINGS, GASKETS AND INSULATIONS

OTHER J-M PRODUCT "ITEMS"

Ordinary house matches or pocket matches would, when struck, explode like firecrackers if they weren't chemically shushed with a Johns-Manville product called Celite.

Lots of J-M products work unseen. IN SHORT, You don't say "Look! There goes a Johns-Manville gasket!" as you say "Look! There goes a new auto!" (with J-M gaskets in it). For instance, miles and miles of underground electrical cables which help American factories run are protected by J-M Transite Conduit and Korduct—both highly resistant to corrosion.

In many battleships, the electrical panels in the engine rooms, gun stations and elsewhere, are made of a pretty J-M product—Asbestos Ebony—jet black—made of asbestos fibre and cement.

In a big magnesium plant at Henderson, Nevada, is a two-ton thermos jug (insulated with J-M Superex Insulation) which saves a lot of money because it enables a jeep to haul molten metal to the refinery and makes remelting unnecessary—thus conserving costly fuel.

Various J-M insulating materials control temperatures all the way from 400 degrees below (br-r-r-r!) to 2,600 degrees above (hot stuff!)

In an open-pit coal mine in Ohio there's a power shovel so big it will hold an automobile in its bucket, yet this shovel handles almost as easily as driving a car—thanks to J-M asbestos brake blocks and J-M clutch linings. (It also has J-M Packings and Oil Seals.)

Over 800,000 feet of J-M Transite Korduct enclose and protect the electric cables which supply the power to trains in Chicago's new subway.
